CHARLES WILLIAM GLASS, OF MOBILE, ALA., IN PENSACOLA ON BUSINESS CONNECTED WITH BOTH HIS MOBILE AND CHICAGO FIRMS.

Charles Wm. Glass, of Mobile, Ala., was in the city yesterday meeting old friends and making new ones.

Mr. Glass is a member of the firm of Adam Glass & Co., of Mobile, and is also proprietor of the Glass Music Publishing Co., of Chicago, Ill. He is a song writer and composer of note, having composed and written "Only An Orange Blossom," "Sweetheart Will You Think of Me," "If I Had Known," "The Reception Mard," "Orange and Blue Mard," "Gulf City Mard," all of which have made national reputations and are yielding him handsome returns every year.

Mr. Glass, although quite a young man, has one of the brightest futures of any young artist in the South. His compositions, which are popular in Pensacola, as in every large city, are full of merit and beauty, and show the true artist, and are potent prefiguration of better things for the future. He is a prominent member of the Mobile branch of Elks, and is an enthusiastic member thereof.

His visit to Pensacola was to take future orders for his firm as well as to place on sale his music at the music stores of Pensacola.

CONDITIONS OF REAL ESTATE

MARKET REMAINS STRONG AND A NUMBER OF GOOD SALES HAVE BEEN MADE.

The real estate market continues to remain firm with a good demand, judging from the reports of the two real estate firms that were interviewed yesterday. L. S. Brown, of L. S. Brown & Co., gave out the following interview:

"The general tone of the market seems strong with but little change. We closed a few very nice deals this week, and would have done more but prices on some of the properties are too high for ready sale."

"Pensacola is still growing in population and prominence. I was only yesterday talking to a gentleman on the way to his home in Illinois, (who by the way has bought a beautiful lot on West Gregory street, and is erecting a most comfortable home thereon.) He says Pensacola and its surrounding territory has the brightest future of any Southern city or territory. He also says, 'If I were younger I would want nothing better than a few hundred acres of land situated near Pensacola.' This gentleman is a man of wide experience and travel, and knows what he is talking about."

"We also sold some lots to parties living in Ohio, and have received a letter, saying that they will be down in the early fall to build and bring others who want to invest in our growing city."

Thos. C. Watson & Co., report a very satisfactory business, having done been by them during the week at fair prices. They have a number of exceptionally good bargains to offer to investors, and can place money at current rates of interest upon good real estate security for such seeking this form of investment.

There is still a demand for five or six room dwellings in good localities, and a steadily increasing demand for additional hotel accommodation to meet the requirements of the winter visitors who are attracted here in greater numbers each season.
